

Bay Mills Community College (BMCC) is currently accepting public school academy proposals with an emphasis on new and innovative teaching techniques. BMCC is interested in academy proposals that target urban, rural, minority, and/or economically disadvantaged school aged children. Those interested must be concerned with the access to a meaningful public education for children who need a thoughtful, caring, safe, and nurturing environment. Among other things, a successful proposal must demonstrate the ability to dramatically increase the academic achievement of students with less than exemplary educational histories. BMCC is particularly interested in management plans that incorporate a financially sound and challenging public school program that promotes mathematics, science, and technology while promoting retention and successful high school graduation. Consideration will be given to those who can document a successful history (minimum of 5 years) for the delivery of charter school academy education in a boarding school, alternative school, skilled trades, traditional, and/or cyber public education system in cooperation with BMCC or other recognized authorizer. Any previous academy financial deficits, closure, termination, or revocation or threat of revocation must be disclosed by the applicant or its proposed educational service provider. Proposals must contain an appropriate and viable location along with a clear statement of purpose clearly outlining how the proposed school will align with the interests of BMCC. Proposals shall not exceed three (3) double spaced pages; proposals exceeding this limit will not be reviewed. Proposals will not be accepted via e-mail.

Bay Mills is willing to consider proposals for new and existing schools organized under either Part 6a or Part 6e of the Revised School Code (Code). Accordingly, proposals should indicate whether the proposed school would be organized under Part 6a or Part 6e of the Code. For Part 6e schools, the proposal should indicate which type of School of Excellence is being proposed (i.e., a high performing high school, a cyber-school or an existing school converting under the applicable provisions of the Code).

Proposals will be accepted by the BMCC Charter School Office from now until July 2017.

After review, a successful proposal may be provided an invitation to submit a completed Phase One application to the BMCC Charter School Office for further consideration. The BMCC Charter Office reserves the right to accept or reject all proposals and all applications. The invitation to receive a proposal or an application by the BMCC Charter School Office is not a guarantee or commitment by BMCC for the issuance a public charter school contract.
